Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(B) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086). The claims are considered to read on Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086). However, if a difference exists between the claims and Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086), it would reside in optimizing the steps of Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086). It would have been obvious to optimize the steps of Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) to enhance separation.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) in view of each of MacPhee (U.S. Patent No. 2003/0161753), Snyder (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2005/0182242), and Pantoliano (U.S. Patent No. 6,214,293). At best, the claim differs from Cramer (U.S.

Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) in reciting use of a stabilizer. MacPhee (U.S. Patent No. 2003/0161753) (paragraph 38, lines 3, 19, 20, and 32) discloses stabilizing biological materials with glycerol reduces damage to the biological material. Snyder (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2005/0182242) (paragraphs 120 and 121) discloses that glycerol stabilizes protein. Pantoliano (U.S. Patent No. 6,214,293) (column 6, lines 11-24 and column 57, lines 25-31) discloses glycerol stabilizes protein. It would have been obvious to use a stabilizer in Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) because MacPhee (U.S. Patent No. 2003/0161753) (paragraph 38, lines 3, 19, 20, and 32) discloses stabilizing biological materials with glycerol reduces damage to the biological material. It would have been obvious to use a stabilizer in Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) because Snyder (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2005/0182242) (paragraphs 120 and 121) discloses that glycerol stabilizes protein. It would have been obvious to use a stabilizer in Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086) because Pantoliano (U.S. Patent No. 6,214,293) (column 6, lines 11-24 and column 57, lines 25-31) discloses glycerol stabilizes protein.

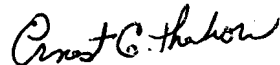

The remarks urge that the restriction is improper because claim 8 is patentable. However, claim 8 is considered to be either obvious or anticipated over Cramer (U.S. Patent Publication No. 2001/0047086). As such, the restriction and election of species have been reconsidered, deemed proper, and made final for the reasons of record.
